The Conservation Commission would like to review all septic plans to ensure that the scope of work is not within an area that is subject to the Wetlands Protection Act. Any work being done within the 100' buffer zone is to be reviewed by the Conservation Commission so they may determine what impact it may have on the wetlands. The Conservation Commission normally meets every two weeks. If there aren't any wetlands on the site, the Commission may approve the plans sooner. If you have any questions, please e-mail conservation@freetownma.gov or call (508) 644-2201 or (508) 958-1544.
